

I don't think I that I need to remind you, the reader, of the magnitude of the IP tourney, the first tournament in this 2006 slo-pitch season. In case I do though, let me put it in perspective with other historic dates in the history of mankind:

- Dec 25, 0000 – The birth of Christ
- April 20, 976 - Copernicus charts the movement of the Zodiac, and in doing so, ensures a lucrative career option for Dionne Warwick.
- December 1675 - Mozart composes Symphony in B Flat, paving the way for the release of Meatloafs "Paradise by the Dashboard Light" some 300 years later.
- February 12, 1876 - Thomas Edison discovers electricity, thereby getting the ball rolling for an Xbox 360 in your living room by the year 2006.
- March 22, 1931 - The comedic genius of William Shatner shines for the first time on this, his birth date.
- September 7, 1987 - The incorrigible Al Bundy, makes his first appearance on the small screen as Married with Children premiers. Bastardized children everyone now have a proper father figure.
- May 5, 2004 - Madonna and Britney lock lips at the MTV Music Awards
- June 9, 2006 – THE 2006 INTER-PROVINCIAL TOURNAMENT KICKS OFF
- June 11, 2006 – The world comes to an end immediately after Mike Soloy hits a walk off grand slam to win the IP tournament, just 5 days after 06/06/06.

Having said that, I implore you to head on down to Fritzthiel this weekend in your finest denim, bring a couple of bucks to get a cool beverage, and take the following advice on what's hot and not so you don't make a damn fool of yourself.
